Subject: The 4 Reasons Why Good Girls Cheat

Hi my name is CR James

<< Author of Super Seduction Power (SuperSeductionPower.com) >>

Let's talk about the 4 reasons why good girls cheat!

Once you understand them, you be one of the few guys who will be able to tell if a girl will eventually cheat on you.

There are 3 types of "girls".

Type #1. Girls who won't cheat on you.

Type #2. Girls who will cheat on you.

Type #3. Girls who end up cheating on you (but never planned to).

Let's face it, some women cheat on their boyfriends (or husbands) and they feel bad afterwards.

In other words, they are good natured women.

They don't steal.

They love animals.

They cry during sad movies.

They do kind things for other people.

They get into relationships with a guy they love.

They do nice things for him.

They take pictures with him.

They give him cuddly nicknames.

But something happens!

If you were spying on her while she was in the bedroom, you would see this "so called" Good Girl -- in the bed --getting "freaky" with another guy...

Note: Three hours ago, she just sent her boyfriend a text message saying:

I Love You Sweetie!!!!

After she is done her Breath-taking Orgasmic Rollercoaster, she feels absolutely horrible...

(She's angry with herself.)

(She's telling herself that she WISHED it never happened.)

(She cries when she gets home.)

(She vows to ABSOLUTELY NEVER call that guy again!)

But that doesn't change the fact that she cheated.

So how does this happen...

What makes a good girl cheat?

And by the way, if you don't believe this kind of thing happens VEEEEERRRRY OFTEN, then may I suggest you read this report 10 times (back to back).

It's important to know that everything comes down to Core Character Traits and Behavior Patterns.

(Again I'm going to be brief.)

These 4 Reasons reveal whether a woman is likely to cheat --- even if she doesn't realize it --- even if she is good-natured with no intention of ever cheating (or emotionally hurting her lover).

As you know, about 65% of all women have cheated at some point (or is currently cheating).

But strangely: 100% of women have strong beliefs about why they hate cheaters.

If you were to go on date with 10,000 women, you would notice something pretty interesting. And it is this:

ALL of them will (at some point) give you a speech about how they hate cheaters and/or the act of cheating. (yet, you already know that 65% of women cheat).

So either there are some conditions where the number 65 is greater than 100 – OR – there are some women who cheat (even though they don't like being cheated on).

Let's get to the point: (Get out a piece of paper and pencil)

Reason #1: She has very little will power

I know this may seem obvious, but many women are good natured - but in certain situations, she just doesn't have the mental strength.

In other words, it's just like a fat woman who wants to lose weight. She doesn't want to over-eat, but for some reason she finds it difficult to suppress her urges.

Basically if there is an urge, she'll act on it – regardless of what her conscious intentions are.

Remember, sex is an urge (just like eating is an urge). So if a random guy (especially a skilled guy) gets her to experience a Sexual Itch, PLUS she is alone with him (or there is an opportunity to be alone with him at some point), a woman with low will power is going to find it difficult to suppress her urge to sleep with this “other guy” – even though she loves her boyfriend/husband.

It's that simple.

Remember, entering into a relationship isn't a Magical Process.

It's just a decision that a person makes.

So every woman in the solar system who is currently in a relationship will still find other men attractive!

.....and she STILL have the ability to get biologically responsive (i.e. horny) from another guy...

Here's how it works from a very basic stand point.

Lisa wants to screw Bob.
Lisa is in a relationship with Jim.
Lisa doesn't want to hurt Jim.

So what happens?

Lisa screws Bob and doesn't tell Jim.

So whenever you get in a relationship, you'll want to pay attention to her Level of Will Power.

[Be as honest as humanly possible]

⇒ On a scale of 1 to 10 (10 being very strong-willed; 1 having absolutely no will power) write down her Will Power Level.

The following may help you come up with her Will Power Level (if you're not sure):

Does she stick to her goals?

Does she struggle with goals?

Does she rarely do what she says she is going to do?

Does she have any addictive behaviors?

Does she procrastinate?

Etc.

[scroll down to the next characteristic]

Reason #2: She can be easily persuaded by others (gullible / naive)

At first glance, it may seem like this characteristic is the same as the first one, but it's not.

The first one has to do with a lack of self-control.

This one deals with how easily her perception of things can be changed by others.

For example I know a woman who gets up at 5:00 AM in the morning and jogs for 5 miles – even on days when she's just not up to it. And if she walked into the local convenient store to get some water she could glide past the chocolate donut case with no problem (even though her bodily urges are screaming at her to take a bite).

Her Will Power is amazing!!!!

Buuuuuuuuutttttttt – if the store owner wanted to deceive her by telling her that he sells “Magic Donuts” that would make her run faster and lose an instant 5 pounds, she'd believe him in a heartbeat!

Do you see the difference?

Some good-natured women are too trusting and they don't understand that some men have “selfish motives”.

So, with that said: I want you to think about her Level of “Gullibleness”. (And yes, that's a real word. In fact it's a “Magic Word”. You don't believe me? Good, because I was testing you...)

[Be as honest as humanly possible]

➡ On a scale of 1 to 10 (10 being hard-to-persuade; 1 being extremely gullible) write down her Persuade-able Level.

The following may help you come up with her Persuade-able Score:

<http://SuperSeductionPower.com> (Learn The 4 Ways To Increase Your Sexual Value)

Is she easy to play tricks on?

Has she ever believed something completely dumb (as a prank)?

Is she clueless to guy's intentions with her?

Etc.

[scroll down to the next characteristic]

Reason #3: She doesn't respect or value you

Based on what we just learned, a woman who respects you (and considers you to be her world) could easily be seduced by another man if her will power is low and/or if she is easily persuaded by others.

That's what we just learned...

Well this trait has to do with her level of respect for you.

So on the flipside, if she is strong-willed and hard-to-persuade, but she doesn't respect/value you, then another guy can seduce her with zero effort.

It's an interesting dynamic.

A guy will be madly in love with a woman. And in his mind, he wants to be with her FOREVER...

BUT....

The woman will have a TOOOOTAALLLY different perspective on their relationship.

If a woman doesn't respect the guy she is with, it's difficult for her to see it as a long term situation.

Here's an experiment you can do (over and over again).

Go outside and walk up to a complete stranger (preferably, a woman). Tell her that you will give her $5 – only if she is able to hold onto it without throwing it in the trash.

If she is able to do it, tell her she can keep the $5!

Now, I want you to repeat the experiment. Tell her "We're going to do something a different, this time".

This time, give her another $5, tell her she can keep it if she holds on to it – that whole thing, but after about 30 seconds, offer her $5000.

Tell her is she accepts the $5000 she gets to keep it, but if she doesn't she gets to keep the $5 (provided that she is able to hold on to it for 2 minutes.)

What you will notice in this very expensive experiment is that ALL THE WOMAN prefer the $5000 over the $5.

And they also prefer the $5 over nothing.

The point is there are many $5 Guys in relationships.

In many relationships respect and value is interchangeable.

So always pay attention to how much respect you are getting in your relationship.

Some guys don't even realize that their women have NO RESPECT for them.

Some women have subtle disrespectful attitude that surfaces from time to time.

Most guys ignore it or make excuses for it.

However, it should never be ignored!

You should realize that respect and love are closely related, but they are 2 different things.

Unlike the first 2 characteristics, respect is something that can fluctuate tremendously. One moment, you are her hero, a few days later you are a loser.

That's why you want to pay attention to the Respect Level and its Fluctuation Level.

I remember (embarrassingly) trying to have sex with a particular girl for 7 straight months. I didn't care that she had a boyfriend. LOL.

Unfortunately, Mr. Perfect Boyfriend had an impressive "force field" on her.

But then one day -- out of nowhere -- she calls me up:

Me: Hello

Her: What are doing tonight?

Me: Nothing

Her: Do you want to come over?

Me: Whooooa (laughing at her boldness). I'm not sure if your boyfriend would think that's a good idea. (assuming that they weren't together)(and trying to let her know what my intentions were for coming over)

Her: Screw him! What he doesn't know won't hurt him!

Needless to say I cashed in. Apparently, he did something to her.

But here's where it gets interesting.

When I tried to 'get some' a week later, I was stone cold rejected.

And wouldn't you know it – in no time, that guy messed up my chances by becoming Mr. Perfect Boyfriend again!

There was nothing I could say to persuade her.

Her will power was strong.

And she respected him...

The point is respect is something that can fluctuate.

Let's define what I mean by respect, to make it clear. That last thing I want is for you to believe the relationship is unstable when it isn't.

My deepest desire is for you to understand exactly how things are. (not how you want them to be)

I don't want you to panic if things are OK.

And I don't want you to pretend everything is OK when it's not.

Some guys avoid conflict because they believe avoiding an angry response is beneficial to the relationship.

It's a tremendously destructive strategy on some many levels.

In fact, I won't even get into how bad of an idea that is, yet so many guys do it.

And it can quickly lead to a loss of respect.

Although women who lose respect for their lovers are often quick to get angry with their partners, that doesn't mean that every time your girlfriend/wife gets angry it's because she has lost respect for you.

So be sure to understand that.

Here are some examples to show the difference.

Bob breaks Sue's favorite music CD.
She is angry - but she has not loss respect for him.

Sue catches Bob sending extremely flirtatious emails to another woman.
She is angry - and she has lost respect for him.

You get the point.

Also, be sure to understand that different women have different criteria for Loss of Respect...

In general, anger is something that wears off. She may not want to talk to you at the moment, but she's not going to act out of character.

On the other hand, a loss of respect is something the guy can feel.

For example, the woman consistently does whatever she wants – without any regard to how the guy feels.

That's not a woman who is temporarily angry – that is a woman who has NO RESPECT for her partner.

Most guys have been there before.

It's easy for a guy to know that he is dealing with a woman who is going to do whatever she wants.

HUGE DIFFERENCE!

If there is prolonged disrespect then you need to beware!

If she frequently loses respect for you, then you need to beware!

[Be as honest as humanly possible]

⇒ On a scale of 1 to 10 (10 being very-respectful-to-you-at-all-times; 1 being extremely disrespectful for the most part) write down her Respect Level.

The following may help you come up with her Respect Score:

Does she act as if she is better than you?

Does she do what she wants – knowing that you disapprove of it?

Does she lash out and say things that hurt your feelings?

Does she criticize you too much?

Etc.

[scroll down to the next characteristic]

Reason #4: Her attitude and belief about cheating

Some women will cheat regardless!

(Read that again.)

If you are dealing with a woman like this, my only hope is that you realize this fact before it's too late.

People have different philosophies that determine how they live their life. These "beliefs" serve a purpose.

A woman could have the belief (i.e. "brain program") that says: "Any guy I enter into a relationship with will eventually cheat on me".

Can you see how this belief could lead to her cheating?

Let's face it, if her boyfriend is a cheater, then she might as well cheat before he does!

You get the idea.

So your girlfriend could exhibit self control...

She could be extremely intelligent (or hard to persuade)...

But there is a belief somewhere inside her brain (that she isn't sharing with you) that drives her philosophy about cheating or being faithful.

I hope this makes sense.

And obviously you'll have to go on your gut feeling that she can't be totally trusted (or 'weird comments' that expose a potential cheating belief), because if she has a belief that gives her permission to cheat, she's not going to reveal this to you.

By the way, this doesn't make her a bad person. It just means she has an irrational belief.

I'll explain.

One day I had a female co-worker that came to work with a sad look on her face.

Me: What's wrong "Lisa"?

Her: I just met the guy of my dreams. He's perfect!

Me: Isn't that considered good news?

Her: Yeah I know. But I'm afraid he's going to catch me cheating.

Me: I got an idea. How about you don't cheat on him?

Her: I can't be faithful.

As she continued it became obvious that her beliefs are what makes her cheat.

She was one of the nicest girls I ever met!

I initially thought it was strictly a will power issue.

It wasn't.

A will power issue is when there is a disagreement between the unconscious and conscious mind.

Let's use a weight-loss example...

For example:

[His words] Jim says he is going to stop eating 5 donuts every morning. (Conscious Desire: "I want to lose weight")

[His actions] The next day Jim ends up eating 5 donuts. (Unconscious Desire: "I want to eat tasty donuts")

The Unconscious and Conscious desires are not the same, which ends up creating a disagreement.

There was no disagreement with "Lisa". She told me she was going to cheat [her words]. And she ended up cheating. [her actions]

And since there is no disagreement, this is not a will power issue.

As a found out, she had a belief that gave her permission to cheat.

She told me that she believed all men are dogs. She believed that a man will eventually cheat on her, so because of that, she might as well cheat...

...since it's going to happen anyway.

Although it's not true, this is what she believes.

There are MANY irrational beliefs that a person can have.

She could be afraid of clowns. And in her mind, the clown has plans to harm her.

Could you imagine giving a good-natured woman a gun while she is locked in a room with 3 clowns?

What would happen?

Answer: Nothing...if she isn't afraid of clowns.

However, if she thinks that the clowns are dangerous and they are about to kill her, then her reaction could be much different.

If a good-natured woman truly believes that all guys cheat, then you should be able to see how this logically leads to a belief that gives her permission to cheat.

By the way, a woman who allows herself to cheat, isn't going to tell her boyfriend (or husband)

So if Lisa's new boyfriend asked her if she is going to be faithful, she is going to say "Yes Sweetie. I would never cheat on you."

It's that simple.

Not only that, she will follow it up with a cliché rant about how cheating is wrong blah blah blah...

You have to be realistic.

You have to understand that 100 is greater than 65.

It's not like she is going to say: [after you ask her how was her day]

Her: "Oh my day was great. My boss was being a jerk, but the day went by fast. The new guy Kevin was banging me silly during lunch time and made me have three intense quivering orgasms until my eyes got as wide as door knobs. Oh yeah - the company is talking about downsizing. How was your day honey?"

When I'm doing relationship consulting, I am amazed at how many guys who openly ask their female partner if she is cheating.

The fact that she is lying and covering up the evidence (because that's what a cheating woman does) means that she wants the guy to believe she is faithful...

So please do not ever ask a woman if she is cheating?

Cheating is a form of lying.

Asking her if she is cheating is like saying:

"I want you to be honest about your lying." OR....

"I want you to be honest and tell me if you've been deceiving me."

This characteristic is about her beliefs.

So because a woman is not likely to reveal her secret belief that gives her permission to cheat on you – even though she knows you are a great catch - you need to go on 2 things to determine her Trust Level

1. something weird she said before that makes you not trust her completely
2. something that happened that didn't seem right
3. a gut feeling that tells you that she can't be trusted

[Be as honest as humanly possible]

➡ On a scale of 1 to 10 (10 being very-trustworthy; 1 being extremely hard to trust for some reason) write down her Trust Level.

Does she have friends that cheat?

Does she have "weird" logic – when it comes to certain things?

Has she cheating on past lovers?

Does she have many ways of looking at things that doesn't make sense?

[scroll down to the 5th characteristic: The Deadly Reason]

I know I said there were only 4, but there is actually 5...

I now refer to the 5th one as the Deadly Reason! (because it's the worst one)

It's the characteristic that no man wants his woman to have...

Reason #5: She has very little confidence

This is the deadly characteristic because a loss of confidence can:

- Diminish Her will power (characteristic #1)
- Make her more suggestible (characteristic #2)
- Make her undeservedly treat you with little respect (characteristic #3)
- Change her beliefs about things in a bad way (characteristic #4)

Make sure you take the time to realize how it can affect all 4 characteristics.

It's really that simple. There's nothing else to say about it – other than, make sure you are a Guy Who Is Perceptive Enough to identify the signs that she has a loss of confidence.

Some guys have very poor perceptive skills. The woman shows bright & screaming signs that she has little confidence and the guy doesn't even see it.

He is just whistling as if everything is fine. These are the guys who are "shocked" the most when they discover she is cheating. They either can't make good human observations – or they ignore the obvious signs as if that is an effective strategy for reversing the problem before it gets to the Danger Level.

[Be as honest as humanly possible]

⇒ On a scale of 1 to 10 (10 being very-confident; 1 being "depressed") write down her Confidence Level.

Does she complain about everything (a sign that she isn't happy)?

Does she appear less motivated?

Does she seem depressed?

[Add up your total: Scroll down to see your results]

Step 1: Take your total and multiply it by 2. So if your total was a 40, your score is 80.*

90 – 100: Congratulations! You have a great woman with a super 18-inch thick force field around her. You don't have anything to worry about. Only a moron wouldn't realize that he has zero chance with her. You can brag to your buddies about your score.

80 – 89: Amazing! You also have a great woman with a pretty good 6 inch thick force field around her. It would take a guy with tons of sexual value to even get her attention.

70 – 79: You're doing good. You have a good catch and you have what it takes to have a great relationship. She's a keeper as long as your sexual value doesn't start to decrease.

60 – 69: Although you are dealing with a woman that could make a great long term partner, women in this group tend to have moments of boredom and moodiness. An outside guy with high-sexual-value, patience, focus and "skill" could possibly exploit her vulnerabilities - and she wouldn't see it coming. The good news is the more you increase your sexual value, the thicker you make the force field.

50 – 59: There's actually hope for some guys in this group. But I would recommend making improvements very fast. There's a thin force field at this level, but it only blocks out guys who don't really matter. She's probably been in touch with a past lover within a month. Make improvements fast. Don't say I didn't warn you.

40 – 49: It's risky. And at this level you've definitely had doubts. It would take some extra work on your part combined with the right woman. But the average Joe Blow (or co-worker) could easily get her into the "happy giggles". She's vulnerable and she probably knows it. There's no force field at this stage.

30 – 39: It's very risky. If you get her to really respect you – along with doing a lot of other things then it's possible. But at this level, you are not allowed to get upset when the "signs" start to show up. If an ex-lover wants her for an evening, he'll get it with ease. Not only is there no force field, she's probably actively looking for a sex partner or a new lover. Your best bet is to run or start immediately doing things to increase your score lightening fast.

01 – 29: Run very fast! This is the danger zone. You probably have some strong evidence already. Get out of the relationship fast (that's just my advice) Don't say I didn't warn you.

How To Increase Your Score

The score is just a means of determining what I (CR James) believe needs to be done. In no way is it a guaranteed “prediction model”.

You should already know this.

However, it's not a Just For Entertainment Fun Quiz.

In fact, you should be able to realize how each characteristic leads to an obvious exploit.

This is the kind of stuff that happens in real life (every single day) – that's why I alerted you with this free report.

There's no report out there that exists.

I want you to be armed with information that most guys do not have. That's always been my goal because there is some many dynamics of male-female interaction that is not being discussed.

Now let's talk about ways you can increase your score.

Here's the good news: If you look at the 5 characteristics, you'll see that there are two key leverage points.

And that is Her Respect For You (Characteristic # 3) and Her Confidence (Characteristic # 5)

These are things that you can change very fast – if you are serious.

The other 3 characteristics take more work.

For example: It takes a lot of work for a person to change their Will Power level, and it's even more work for someone to change someone else's Will Power level.

So, you must start with Her Respect For You, because the more she respects you, the easier it becomes to influence Her Confidence. And the higher her confidence (along with respect) the less the other characteristics become vulnerabilities.

That is how you increase the force field.
