

CR James Reports

Issue #019 (October 4, 2010)

Hi CR

I am the blind man that talked to you a time ago. I bought two of your books SAP [Super Approach Power] and SSP [Super Seduction Power]. I Read SSP and I am reading SAP.

I think the information in the books are good.

I need some help with the principals in SAP. I find it hard as a blind man to physically find the woman to talk too. Because you don't always know if the person beside you is a woman or man.

Also I tried the bar thing also, it is too much noise .

I think there is a lot of visual signals going on that I can't see. So, can you give some strategies to put the ball more in my field.

Thank you, I feel with your help I can make this work.

Hey [Tim]

How do strike up regular conversations with people?

Take the same approach...

In other words, it's all about getting comfortable with starting the conversation.

As far as not knowing if the person is a man or female... it's absolutely no different than not knowing if a woman is in a relationship or single...

You're not going to know until you start talking.

To me, your biggest limitation is the same as anyone who struggles with meeting women and that is taking action...

First you have to get good at finding places where available women are... and the answer to that is everywhere imaginable...

They're at the gym, the Bookstore, at your place of employment, bars, gas stations, grocery stores, parking Lots, retail stores, parks, convenient stores, car shops (in the waiting area), car shops (women working on cars), your neighborhood, malls.. the list goes on...

I met my wife at a pet store buying feeder fish for my piranhas. (20 goldfish for $1)

So step one is never going to be "Where do I find available women?"

Step one is really about understanding that women are everywhere. And statistically some of them will be in loving relationships... and that's ok... and you won't know that until you starting talking to them...

And if she decides to be loyal [to her man] despite your excessively charming attempts... that's ok...

In fact, it's pretty cool that we live in a world where there's a certain percentage of women who will be faithful...

The latest stats say 2% are faithful.

Just joking...

At any rate, step 2 is going to be getting comfortable with having a stimulating conversation...

It's the best approach...

Then you can start sprinkling stuff that builds your sexual value (even more) and stuff that increases sexual tension.

Be a good listener.
Inspire her (if needed)
Congratulate her.

Be enjoyable to be around.

Then it's sprinkle-time!

(Don't say it aloud though, because it doesn't sound too manly.)

But the idea is to...

Learn how to walk first.... then learn how to run.
Learn how to talk first.... then learn how to sing...or give great speeches or freestyle...

Learn how to start the conversation... then learn how have a great stimulating conversations... learn start applying all the stuff you learned in SAP...

Much Success!
CR

Hey CR,

I am fairly sure that a lot of my anxieties come from always hiding my feelings and my attitude as to what it is to be a "man", My fears of what people will think of me (weak, if I show emotion), and my fears of how my wife will react to me if I misstep. I am not afraid to argue with my wife or share my weaknesses or dreams but I am very reluctant to do what is necessary to create SV.

There is one thing you told me before and one thing the therapist told me before and that is to "Step Out of My Comfort Zone".

How do you do that?

Especially, with regards to creating tension to build SV?

I will tell you my biggest hang-ups and see what you think. Based on past observations, I can totally see how the competition thing works in the female brain. Without a doubt, my wife was highly sexual towards me when I had female friends and they used to call me. I could tell she viewed these girls as a threat (I only realized this in retrospect after reading your material - You're good!). Now, I am married, no real female friends I maintain contact with and I primarily spend all of my time at work (no females) and home. We are always together during the weekends so there are no real opportunities to engage in conversations with other women (I kind of feel the answer coming but I wanted your advice).

So, if I told a story about a woman showing interest in me it wouldn't be believable. (Obviously, it sounds like I need to create some time away from my wife). The other problems: how do I justify talking intimately with other women to whom I am not married to generate stories (my preferred method)?

And, I have a hang-up about not inventing stories. How do I overcome this? (Have you ever met those guys that totally fabricate stories and you have no respect for them. They are always very entertaining and fun to be around but you can't help but to mock them. I picture myself being that kind of guy if I fabricate stories).

Best Regards,
[Adam]

For the most part, you either have a "taking action" problem or a "strategy" problem...

As far as stepping outside of your comfort zone (taking action), I have studied this area a lot.

In fact, I'm fascinated by the concept.

As far as a good method for doing it.

There's two parts:

Part 1: Training your mind.

I would say closing your eyes and visualizing (seeing yourself in the situation having success....and believing that it's possible....and doing that over and over again.)

It's kind of weird for me to say/suggest because anytime I read about "visualization techniques", I'm put off. I think it has to do with how some people exaggerate what's possible with it or some additional stuff that doesn't make sense.

Scientifically, you actually build new neural connections.

Part 2: Having a game plan.

You can do some sort of "visualization tactic" to perfection. For the most part, it's going to be limited.

It has to be combined with a "sensible game plan".

For example: Let's say a shy guy who is afraid to walk up to a woman obviously needs to step outside of his comfort zone, but taking the "just do it" approach, doesn't quite work for most people...

Even if he started to feel more comfortable about doing it, he still needs a game plan.

He needs to know strategies for starting the conversation,
He needs to know strategies for maintaining the conversation,
He needs to know strategies for getting her number.
Stuff like that.

He needs specifics. Do THIS. Then do THAT.

And part of the game plan is mental...

.....changing how you see women (it's more beneficial if you convinced yourself that they're nice, tender, down to earth, like to have fun, etc. THEN if you believed they are stuck up, bitchy, all of them are in relationships...thinking that it's a hard process to get a woman to say 'Wow. He seems like a cool down to earth guy that I wouldn't mind getting to know more'.....just CHANGING how you perceive women (in general).

So that's my take.

Moving out of your comfort zone start with:

[1] imagining yourself in that situation - doing it - having success - realizing that it's not a big deal - WHATEVER IT IS - having fun with it - knowing that whatever the outcome, you still get to learn - the world doesn't blow up.

[2] having a sensible game plan - come up with SOMETHING - do it - see if it works - tweak it - scrap it if necessary - come up with a new game plan to try it - knowing ahead of time what you plan is

As far as not being able to use 'other females' as a means to build tension, that's fine. That's the reason why I created the report 77 Ways to Build Sexual Tension - to show that you're not limited to one way.

With that said, you could still use that method in creative ways even though you're not in contact with women.

Thanks CR,

Sometimes you can get caught in your mind spinning things in so many directions that you need the relief of someone else's perspective (especially someone who has had success). I am reluctant to talk to other guys about this because the advice is so bad. But, it is humorous. My favorite was: if your wife is not putting out you should "wack off" on her back every night until she gets tired of cleaning up the mess every morning. I still admire his balls (if it is true) but I can't help but to laugh at his actions.

Thanks Again,
[Adam]

Hilarious! The funny thing I've been hearing about a lot of bad advice from people lately - including 'experts'.

One guy said, if your wife isn't in the mood, she needs to take herb1 and herb2.

He said it with all the confidence in the world.

As if one of the herbs contains a mineral that reacts with the part of her brain that controls how sexually desirable the guy appears to her.

It's almost like the world is slow-to-acknowledge that 'perception of desirability' is an actual factor...

We'll living in the age of the Magic Pill.

It's almost weird.

As if when a woman gets horny, she'll sleep with any guy (bums - crackheads - those 900lb guys who spend all day in their beds - creepy magicians - etc)

In terms of getting your partner to crave sex more often, the whole "cumming on her back" technique as means to show her how sexually appealing you really are could be the worst advice I've heard about in a long time! LOL!

Take care
-CR

Hey CR,

My lady and I split up 6 months ago. I was unsure about us after 4 years together, because I felt disconnected from her. She was devastated, but we decided to be friends.

After 3 weeks of being friends and spending almost every day together closer than ever, (no sex, but talking, warmth, intimacy, a real tension for sex, but she was in a lot of pain, I wasn't yet) I approach her to get back together.

She says no.

I am DEVASTATED now. I've spent the past 5 months on a roller coaster ride. She still spends time with me, we are close, it has escalated a bit, but never to making love, only a couple kisses. She's confused, she's distant. My heart is smashed into a million pieces now.

I could handle it for a while, this closeness, then total distance and coldness.

But recently it's been too much. Too many ups and downs, and I'm capsizing.

I know we split up because our connection was lessening and our sex, while a couple times a week and always good, it was rarely GREAT. And strangely, at the very end, I started to be more like an animal around her. We made love and I was the most aggressive I've ever been and it scared me. I felt like I had tapped into a part of me that was going to bring chaos to my life.

Anyway, this is where I am now. We see each other a lot, but I've lost my Mojo around her. And I am athletic, handsome, actor, in touch with his emotions, and sought after by just about every woman I've ever approached.

But I've lost her, and I can't seem to get her back. I don't think she trusts me, so she won't let herself be touched by me emotionally. I've made her laugh and seduced her in the past 5 months, and been close to drawing her back into bed, where I think she could release all the anger she has for me.

We are hanging by a thread her and I. I feel like I need to play games to get her back. And I judge that in me. But I know that telling her how much I love her isn't doing shit for me.

I need a hand man.

I love this woman, she is my best friend, but I have lost her. And I fear I'm poisoning any chance I have at rekindling things by being around her now. I need my mojo back, it seems to leave me as soon as she enters the room, and I have a lot of it usually.

What do I do?

But I refuse to be dis-empowered. I also refuse to mistreat her.

I guess that's the one thing I haven't done. Is be cold to her. She's been cut off and cold to me, why can't I be to her. Why must I be open, keep this wound open?

It's fucked.

Any advice you might have, or further literature, would be a life raft CR. I feel like there is no other case like mine in the world, but that is probably not the case at all.

But man, it's tough right now.

I can be the most confident guy in the world sometimes! Yesterday I flirted with 4 different women in an afternoon. I don't want to go into any details, but it was the best. Then I see her in the evening, and boom my lungs empty.

Your opinion on this would be really appreciated.

Thanks so much,

[Nick]

Hey Nick

I'll help you out man..

As far as getting back with her, you should be able to do that...

B/c based on what you said, it seems like 'the holdback' is an objection...In other words, it's not like a sexual value thing.

So much of getting her back, is going to be a result of how much you understand her and her perspective...specifically how she perceives you, everything that took place and any potential objections...

Start with figuring that out and refer to the info in Red Bubbles [GetHerBackFast.com]

CR

Prompt reply, so good of you man

Irony, all my guy friends come to me for advice as women have always been drawn to me, the best women and now I'm in a shit heap

Humbling.

Part of me wants to just cut her loose, and go on to one of many others.

But in 4 years, she's got my heart we just had some pieces missing that I think are fixable.

We agreed on a stop word, should sex get too aggressive.

I know she is afraid of physical violence because of a childhood experience so I was never as rough with her as I would have liked.

I think she thinks I only want her now 'cause I can't have her and I'm the one that said, "something had to change" in our relationship.

I'm trying to see through my cloud of pain and feeling of loss without puffing up and being a prick to her.

But at the same time, I can't let myself be dis-empowered around her it's this delicate balance sometimes I'm full enough to flirt with her and make her laugh tease her. But she's not receptive like most women.

It took me 4 months to seduce her away from her boyfriend she protects her heart like no other woman I've ever met.

ahhhhhh

Sometimes I think it's just too much work, that I would married her when I had the chance if I really wanted to but then I know the mind plays tricks.

Right now, my strategy is to keep a bit of distance with us interact with her when my life energy and charisma is high although that hasn't really worked either my 43 year old woman friend told me that if I do that, I'm still competing with her for her and that's what split us up, me wanting more of a chase, more interaction.

I can't be sure CR.

Sometimes it feels like I gotta leave this one up to the stars for a while it's consuming so much of my daily energy, bordering on unhealthy.

Amazing how at the drop of a hat I can be so attractive to one woman, in the same room!, then completely shunned by my former lover.

Thanks for writing man. From what I've read, your stuff seems to be the most truthful, most on I have to head out now

Talk again!

[Nick]

CR,

First off I want to thank you for how awesome your book is!

Its skyrocketed my confidence to where its never been before. I've slowly but surely integrated some of your techniques in to my daily routine and its worked wonders. There are many different situations in Super Seduction Power that I can relate to, but I also feel like I'm in a situation that hasn't been covered and I'm not too sure how to go about it.

I was dating this girl during the summer, we actually had a GREAT relationship, I was always happy around her, she was happy around me, I ended up taking her virginity, sex was amazing...

BUT

She was leaving for college at the end of the summer, which is across the state, about 4 and a half hours away. We both agreed to let things go, as hard as that was for the both of us.

Unfortunately, its been 2 months since I've seen her and I still miss her like crazy, I've been trying to give her space because I'm sure she's busy with school, meeting new friends and dancing at games (yes she's a dancer :))

I feel like its just hard to make her miss me when she has tons and tons of new friends to go hang out with and have fun, rather than wonder about what I'm doing.

Also I'm planning on going over there to visit for Halloween weekend, I'm not going just for her, I have quite a few friends that go to that school. I'm just wondering on how I should go about seeing her? What I should do when we meet up? If I should try and regain our relationship? Wait things out till she comes home? etc etc.

Any help would be greatly appreciated,

Thanks,
Trevor M.

What's up Trevor

I'm glad to hear that you are getting success. As far as how should you go about seeing her and all of that... that depends on how she feels about the situation.

Its possible that she's missing you just as much (if not more)...

It's also possible that she has completely moved on (which doesn't mean you did anything wrong)...

She's either going to be closer to one of those mindsets. Some people may say you shouldn't try to maintain a long distance relationship, but life is about going after what you want... so you have to decide ...and as long as you understand the dynamics of what you're up against (the pros and cons), then go for it if that's what you really want...

The first step is figuring out how much she misses you.. (because your game plan is going to be based on that key piece of information)

Have you been in contact with her? If not, call her and try to feel her out to get an idea.

If she appears to really miss you (and I mean she TRULY MISSES YOU A LOT!)(which is not the same as the courtesy response "Wow! I really miss you") then do everything that you planned to do.

Possibly surprise her (which of course, is the last thing you want to do if she has kind of moved on).

Basically you just need to show up and+ be yourself + navigate her tension.

Doing more than what's necessary (in a situation like this) is going to fizzle everything out.

If she appears to have moved on, then you want to mutually prepare a meeting (no surprises)(it should have the feel of two friends hanging out or it should feel like a date with someone you're just getting to know).

Then once you're in her presence (in this non-pressure friendly environment), then you can start working your magic (projecting charisma/ confidence, sv tactics, reminding her of fun times, etc.)...

Since you know her, you have an advantage.

Take care

CR,

I really appreciate the quick response. Referring back to how she feels about the situation, I believe she misses me too, we've talked quite a few times while she's been gone. But there have been times where I cant tell and she'll be extremely hard to read.

There has been one home sick moment she had about a month ago where she texted me saying "I miss you, like I've been trying to move on and have a good time, but I cant..." along with "I just want you to be here right now, I just want to cry lol". Which honestly made me feel great cause I was feeling the same way.

The tough part about the whole situation is, we've slowly and slowly been talking less often and I'm not too sure if that's a sign of her moving on or not. I'm totally not trying to be clingy or needy (that's how her last relationship ended) I've been giving her the space she needs, the waiting around part is not easy on me.

All in all, I'm just trying to get a professional's insight. When we do meet up, should we go about the situation as friends and then work my magic that I've learned from your book?

Or just play it off as if we never left and make it seem like we're living in the good ol' times again? I know there might not be a clear cut answer, and I know there are a lot of grey areas with this, it's just a little tough trying to deal with this by myself.

Thanks again,
Trevor M.

Ok. Based on that, I would just assume that she misses you more than it appears. Although it may feel like she's not thinking about you as much, chances are nothing has changed.

I think you should play it off like nothing ever changed. Leverage the existing emotional attachment she has with you & being in your presence.

-CR

Section II: Cool Tips

The section is sponsored by Female Backwipes & The new over-shoulder back scrubber (engineering by Carrot Top | exclusively at Target)

Tip #1: The reasons why women have sex.

In the previous issue [<http://superpowermedia.com/issue018.pdf>], it was advised that you create 4 lists.

Brainstorm. Have fun with it. For example:

SV Methods	ST Methods
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Getting in shape 2. Improving your appearance 3. Projecting more confidence 4. Being fun to be around 5. _____ 6. _____ 7. _____ 8. _____ 9. _____ 10. _____ 	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Giving her a compliment 2. Making her feel sexy 3. Back rub / caressing 4. _____ 5. _____ 6. _____ 7. _____ 8. _____ 9. _____ 10. _____

Anti-SV Methods	Anti-ST Methods
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Being Lazy 2. Being a complainer 3. Having a defeated attitude 4. Being angry and miserable 5. _____ 6. _____ 7. _____ 8. _____ 9. _____ 10. _____ (If you own SSP, you should be able to fill out over 20 things.)	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Talking about sex too much 2. Being selfish 3. Talking about inappropriate things at intimate moments 4. _____ 5. _____ 6. _____ 7. _____ 8. _____ 9. _____ 10. _____

Now, you should create a list of reasons why women have sex [based on their reasons].

You see when you build sexual tension (in a way that creates an urge to have sex), the woman gets horny, she starts doing stuff to you, and it's pretty obvious what she wants. This is what I call an urge-based craving because it's physical sensation. It's an itch.

However, there are reason-based cravings, too.

For example, a woman drags her innocent male co-worker into a dark conference room, locks the door with the lights out. Blows him silly. They have a "quickie". After cleaning up, and fixing their clothes, they rush back into the office area with blank papers in their hand (pretending to be in work-mode) refusing to make eye contact with each other.

The guy sits down at his desk and writes down on a post-it note:

Remember to wear the new cologne again for tomorrow.

However, that wasn't the reason.

In fact, he never built any sexual tension. In fact, she wasn't technically horny. Her desire to screw him was based on finding out their her husband has been cheating on her. And she wanted to secretly pay him back.

Revenge-Sex!

It's like a psychological itch. She feels like a piece of shit because of what her husband has done. And in an attempt to feel valued, she gets revenge.

As you can see, it's based on a reason. It was a reason-based craving!

And the urge is still strong! (Have you ever been an abused victim of revenge sex? If so, then you know that the urge is strong.)

The cool thing is there are many REASONS why a woman would have sex with a guy.

There are the reasons they give and then there's the real reason.

Sometimes they know the real reason.
Sometimes they don't know the real reason.

Either way, the reason she gives (meaning - this is what she believes) is still important (and very useful information).

Much of the reports I create are based on Urge Tactics (She's physically aroused) and Reason Tactics (She's intensely driven by a reason). Both are acceptable. Both are fun.

Here's a list of Reasons Women Have Sex (according to David M. Buss and Cindy M. Meston.

I discovered this 'paper' about a month ago. And the cool thing is supports stuff I've been talking about for years. (even though it lists the reason - and not the 'method' a sequence of steps that lead to one – or more – of these reason.

Take a look.

You can download the original paper here:

<http://homepage.psy.utexas.edu/homepage/Group/BussLAB/pdffiles/why%20humans%20have%20sex%202007.pdf>

237 Reasons Why Women Have Sex

1. I was "in the heat of the moment."
2. It just happened.
3. I was bored.
4. It just seemed like "the thing to do."
5. Someone dared me.
6. I desired emotional closeness "[i.e.," intimacy].
7. I wanted to feel closer to God.
8. I wanted to gain acceptance from my friends.
9. It's "exciting," adventurous.
10. I wanted to make up after a fight.
11. I wanted to get rid of aggression.
12. I was under the influence of drugs.
13. I wanted to have something to tell my friends.
14. I wanted to express my love for the person.
15. I wanted to experience the physical pleasure.
16. I wanted to show my affection to the person.
17. I felt like I owed it to the person.
18. I was attracted to the person.
19. I was sexually aroused and wanted the release.
20. My friends were having sex and I wanted to fit in.
21. It feels good.
22. My partner kept insisting.
23. The person was famous and I wanted to be able to say I had sex with him/her.
24. I was physically forced to.
25. I was verbally coerced into it.
26. I wanted the person to love me.
27. I wanted to have a child.
28. I wanted to make someone else jealous.
29. I wanted to have more sex than my friends.
30. I was married and you're supposed to.
31. I was tired of being a virgin.
32. I was "horny."
33. I wanted to feel loved.
34. I was feeling lonely.
35. Everyone else was having sex.

36. I wanted the attention.
37. It was easier to "go all the way" than to stop.
38. I wanted to ensure the relationship was "committed."
39. I was competing with someone else to "get the person."
40. I wanted to "gain control" of the person.
41. I was curious about what the person was like in bed.
42. I was curious about sex.
43. I wanted to feel attractive.
44. I wanted to please my partner.
45. I wanted to display submission.
46. I wanted to release anxiety/stress.
47. I didn't know how to say "no."
48. I felt like it was my duty.
49. I wanted to end the relationship.
50. My friends pressured me into it.
51. I wanted the adventure/excitement.
52. I wanted the experience.
53. I felt obligated to.
54. It's fun.
55. I wanted to get even with someone "[i.e.," get revenge].
56. I wanted to be popular.
57. It would get me gifts.
58. I wanted to act out a fantasy.
59. I hadn't had sex for a while.
60. The person was "available."
61. I didn't want to "lose" the person.
62. I thought it would help "trap" a new partner.
63. I wanted to make someone else jealous.
64. I felt sorry for the person.
65. I wanted to feel powerful.
66. I wanted to "possess" the person.
67. I wanted to release tension.
68. I wanted to feel good about myself.
69. I was slumming.
70. I felt rebellious.
71. I wanted to intensify my relationship.
72. It seemed like the natural next step.
73. I wanted to be nice.
74. I wanted to feel connected to the person.
75. I wanted to feel young.
76. I wanted to manipulate him/her into doing something for me.
77. I wanted him/her to stop bugging me about sex.
78. I wanted to hurt/humiliate the person.
79. I wanted the person to feel good about themselves.
80. I didn't want to disappoint the person.
81. I was trying to "get over" an earlier person/relationship.

82. I wanted to reaffirm my sexual orientation.
83. I wanted to try out new sexual techniques or positions.
84. I felt guilty.
85. My hormones were out of control.
86. It was the only way my partner would spend time with me.
87. It became a habit.
88. I wanted to keep my partner happy.
89. I had no self-control.
90. I wanted to communicate at a deeper level.
91. I was afraid my partner would have an affair if I didn't have sex with him/her.
92. I was curious about my sexual abilities.
93. I wanted a "spiritual" experience.
94. It was just part of the relationship "routine".
95. I wanted to lose my inhibitions.
96. I got "carried away."
97. I needed another "notch on my belt."
98. The person demanded that I have sex with him/her.
99. The opportunity presented itself.
100. I wanted to see what it would be like to have sex while stoned "[e.g.," on marijuana or some other drug].
101. It's considered "taboo" by society.
102. I wanted to increase the number of sex partners I had experienced.
103. The person was too "hot" [sexy] to resist.
104. I thought it would relax me.
105. I thought it would make me feel healthy.
106. I wanted to experiment with new experiences.
107. I wanted to see what it would be like to have sex with another person.
108. I thought it would help me to fall asleep.
109. I could brag to other people about my sexual experience.
110. It would allow me to "get sex out of my system" so that I could focus on other things.
111. I wanted to decrease my partner's desire to have sex with someone else.
112. It would damage my reputation if I said "no."
113. The person was too physically attractive to resist.
114. I wanted to celebrate something.
115. I was seduced.
116. I wanted to make the person feel better about themselves.
117. I wanted to increase the emotional bond by having sex.
118. I wanted to see whether sex with a different partner would feel different or better.
119. I was mad at my "partner," so I had sex with someone else.
120. I wanted to fulfill a previous promise to my partner.
121. It was expected of me.
122. I wanted to keep my partner from straying.
123. I wanted the pure pleasure.
124. I wanted to dominate the other person.
125. I wanted to make a conquest.

126. I'm addicted to sex.
127. It was a favor to someone.
128. I wanted to be used or degraded.
129. Someone offered me money to do it.
130. I was drunk.
131. It seemed like good exercise.
132. I was pressured into doing it.
133. The person offered to give me drugs for doing it.
134. I was frustrated and needed relief.
135. It was a romantic setting.
136. I felt insecure.
137. My regular partner is "boring," so I had sex with someone else.
138. I was on the "rebound" from another relationship.
139. I wanted to boost my self-esteem.
140. I wanted to get my partner to stay with me.
141. Because of a bet.
142. It was a special occasion.
143. I wanted to get a special favor from someone.
144. I wanted to get back at my partner for having cheated on me.
145. I wanted to enhance my reputation.
146. I wanted to keep warm.
147. I wanted to punish myself.
148. I wanted to break up a rival's relationship by having sex with his/her partner.
149. I wanted to stop my partners' nagging.
150. I wanted to impress friends.
151. I wanted to achieve an orgasm.
152. I wanted to brag to my friends about my conquests.
153. I wanted to improve my sexual skills.
154. I wanted to get a job.
155. I wanted to get a raise.
156. I wanted to get a promotion.
157. I wanted to satisfy a compulsion.
158. I wanted to make money.
159. I wanted to keep my partner satisfied.
160. I wanted to change the topic of conversation.
161. I wanted to get out of doing something.
162. I wanted to test my compatibility with a new partner.
163. I wanted to get a partner to express love.
164. I wanted to put the passion back into my relationship.
165. I wanted to prevent a breakup.
166. I wanted to become one with another person.
167. I wanted to get a favor from someone.
168. I wanted to breakup my relationship.
169. I wanted to give someone else a sexually transmitted disease "[e.g., "herpes," AIDS].
170. I wanted to breakup another's relationship.

171. I wanted to avoid hurting someone's feelings.
172. I wanted to make myself feel better about myself.
173. I wanted to get rid of a headache.
174. I was afraid to say "no" due to the possibility of physical harm.
175. I wanted to keep my partner from straying.
176. I wanted to burn calories.
177. I wanted to even the score with a cheating partner.
178. I wanted to hurt an enemy.
179. I wanted to feel older.
180. I wanted to raise my self-esteem.
181. It was an initiation rite to a club or organization.
182. I wanted to become more focused on work – sexual thoughts are distracting.
183. I wanted to say "I've missed you."
184. I wanted to celebrate a birthday or anniversary or special occasion.
185. I wanted to say "I'm sorry."
186. I wanted to return a favor.
187. I wanted to say "Thank you."
188. I wanted to welcome someone home.
189. I wanted to say "goodbye."
190. I wanted to defy my parents.
191. I wanted to relieve menstrual cramps.
192. I wanted to relieve "blue balls."
193. I wanted to get the most out of life.
194. I wanted to feel feminine.
195. I wanted to feel masculine.
196. I am a sex addict.
197. I wanted to see what all the fuss is about.
198. I thought it would boost my social status.
199. The person had a lot of money.
200. The person's physical appearance turned me on.
201. The person was a good dancer.
202. Someone had told me that this person was good in bed.
203. The person had beautiful eyes.
204. The person made me feel sexy.
205. An erotic movie had turned me on.
206. The person had taken me out for an expensive dinner.
207. The person was a good kisser.
208. The person had bought me jewelry.
209. The person had a great sense of humor.
210. The person seemed self-confident.
211. The person really desired me.
212. The person was really desired by others.
213. I wanted to gain access to that person's friend.
214. I felt jealous.
215. The person flattered me.
216. I wanted to see if I could get the other person into bed.

217. The person had a desirable body.
 218. I had not had sex in a long time.
 219. The person smelled nice.
 220. The person had an attractive face.
 221. I saw the person naked and could not resist.
 222. I was turned on by the sexual conversation.
 223. The person was intelligent.
 224. The person caressed me.
 225. The person wore revealing clothes.
 226. The person had too much to drink and I was able to take advantage of them.
 227. I knew the person was usually "out of my league."
 228. The person was mysterious.
 229. I realized I was in love.
 230. I wanted to forget about my problems.
 231. I wanted to reproduce.
 232. I wanted to feel loved.
 233. I wanted my partner to notice me.
 234. I wanted to help my partner forget about their problems.
 235. I wanted to lift my partner's spirits.
 236. I wanted to submit to my partner.
 237. I wanted to make my partner feel powerful.

You should read that list 10 times!

.....

Remember becoming a master at getting women horny is based on:

Mindset Stuff (realizing that you can be better than what you are now - realizing that it's easy to become better - realizing that it's fun - visualizing - getting comfortable with the process)

Game Plan Stuff (Do THAT. Do THIS - Getting a game plan - taking the time to learn about your partner [or the Target Woman] - keeping it simple - learning new stuff - improving your game plan - when something works, write it down)

.....

Buy a $1.00 notebook.

And write out a strategy. Even if it's based on a bunch of crazy ideas. Just get comfortable with the idea of writing out a strategy. Then start doing them. Make notes about what happened. Create a new strategy (based on these reasons. Based on your SV, Anti-SV, ST, Anti-ST Lists. Based on something that has worked for you before.)

Note: If you want a short-cut you can sneak through the pages of my strategy guide (package deal of GHH Reports) at

<http://superpowermedia.com/ghh-super-pack2.html>

If you don't want it or need it, it's not necessary (just being honest). As long as you have some sort of 'sensible plan' for creating seduction tactics that you can have fun with.

The above package is really like a 'time-warping' super short-cut, because it would take the average guy about 15 years (and over 22 blank notebooks filled with secret strategies) to come up with the equivalent to all the massive amount of tactics found in all of those reports.

Again, either way write out something in your notebooks (or Microsoft Word file). Refer to these reasons. Ask her about times when she got really turned on. Decode them.

Look for patterns. Is she consistently driven by one or two reasons on the list!

Tip #2: Learn from everyone.

Even if you got the package deal [referenced in the previous tip], took notes, got success, recorded your success and so on, there's still a massive amount of undiscovered ways to get your woman turned on that you don't know about.

Always realize there's more you can learn.

There's nothing worse than a know-it-all-guy who thinks there's nothing more he can learn.

It's sad.

I've been studying this stuff like crazy for years, and I just discovered something really \ powerful yesterday. What does that tell you?

In fact.....the other night I had some healthy adult fun with my wife and it was based on something I learned from a customer. (Just in case you're nosey: If you have a copy of GHH Volume 2,...I'm referring to the Lazy Technique)

The point is, that lesson [that I learned] wouldn't have taken place if I just PRETENDED to know everything....

So this tip is all about learning from others....

You see, the know-it-all-guys actually are more concerned with projecting that image....it requires a lot of work....

There're constantly dismissing sensible information.....which are like Golden Opportunities for growth.... for people like you and I....

As a core rule...just make it a point to DEEPLY BELIEVE that you can learn from anymore....which means you have get in the habit of respecting people....that way you can respect their outlook..

When you deeply respect yourself (and others) ...not to sound like a personified fortune cookie message, but you end learning life-changing information from other people. This allows you to be more helpful, compassionate, etc.

So talk to friends, other guys, co-workers about a time when their wife was really turned on. In other words, learn from other people.

You: Let me ask you something. Isn't it weird how sometimes a woman can not be in the mood....

and then another time she's horny as hell?

Him: Yeah.

You: You noticed that?

Him: Last week, my wife was really horny. She was [censored] and [censored] and then she [censored] me...TWICE!!!!

You: What caused it? What happened earlier that day? [keep asking questions to reverse-engineer what he did accidentally.]

Him: I did blah blah blah...and then blah blah...earlier that day we blah blah blah'ed....

.....

You're going to end up learning brilliant seduction tactics that you can use over and over and over again. (for the rest of your life!)

You could write it in your notebook!

Because if you're using that one tip to get YOUR GIRLFRIEND (or wife) turned on, then it could be worth over $900! (to you)...

Does that make sense?

Take care

- CR James

crjames.com
crjames100@gmail.com

Creator of the new package deal:

<http://superpowermedia.com/ghh-super-pack2.html>

